SAFETY AND PRECAUTIONS

We recommend that you read this chapter carefully before use. The manufacturer disclaims any liability for damage which may result as a consequence of improper use or use contrary to the instructions contained herein.

• CONDITIONS OF USE:

Switch the phone off before boarding an aircraft, otherwise you may be prosecuted. Switch the phone off when you are in health care facilities except in areas where it is allowed. As with many other types of equipment now in regular use, mobile telephones can interfere with other electrical or electronic devices, or equipment using radio frequency. When the phone is switched on, avoid placing it near a medical aid device if you carry one such as a pacemaker, hearing aid or insulin pump. Especially when you have a call, you should hold the telephone against the ear on the opposite side to the device, if any.

Do not switch the phone on when you are near gas or flammable liquids. Strictly obey all signs and instructions posted in a fuel depot, gas station, or chemical plant, or in any potentially explosive atmosphere. Do not let small children use the phone without supervision. Do not attempt to open or repair it yourself. Use only Alcatel batteries, battery chargers, and accessories that are compatible with your phone model. (See Accessories List, page 97) The manufacturer disclaims any liability for damage caused by use of other batteries, chargers or accessories. Do not allow your phone to be exposed to unfavourable environmental conditions (humidity, rain, ingress of liquids, dust, sea air, etc). The manufacturer's recommended operating temperature range is -20 °C to +40 °C. Over 55°C the legibility of the phone's display may be impaired, though this is temporary and not serious.

• BATTERY:

Before removing the battery from your phone, please make sure that the phone is switched off. Take precautions with the battery and do not attempt to open the battery (chemical substances may cause burns). Do not pierce, disassemble nor cause a short-circuit in a battery. Do not burn or dispose of a used battery in household waste or store it at temperatures above 60 °C. Batteries must be disposed of in accordance with locally applicable environmental legislation. Batteries should not be used for other purpose than the one they are designed for. Never use damaged batteries.

• TRAFFIC SAFETY:

Always check whether local legislation permits operation of a mobile phone while driving a vehicle. When it is said that the use of mobile phones whilst driving a vehicle is a risk factor, we strongly recommend that you park the car before using the phone. However if you intend to use your phone while driving, you must use it connected to the "Easy-to-install hands-free car kit".

Your mobile phone when powered emits radiation which may interfere with the vehicle electronic systems such as anti-lock brakes (ABS, airbag). As a result, you should:

- avoid placing the phone on the dashboard.
- connect the phone to an external antenna. The antenna should be mounted and located away from the driver and passengers or separated from them by a metal screen (e.g. the car roof).
- check with the car manufacturer that the dashboard is adequately shielded from mobile phone RF energy.

• RADIO WAVES:

Before a phone model is available for sale to the public, compliance with the International guidelines (ICNIRP) or European Directive 1999/5/EC (R&TTE) must be shown. These guidelines or directive include as one essential requirement the protection of the health and the safety for the user and any other person.

THIS MOBILE PHONE MEETS THE INTERNATIONAL AND EU REQUIREMENTS FOR EXPOSURE TO RADIO WAVES.

Your mobile phone is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed and manufactured not to exceed the limits for exposure to radio-frequency (RF) energy recommended by International guidelines (ICNIRP) (1) and by the Council of the European Union (Recommendation 1999/519/EC) (2). These limits are part of comprehensive guidelines and establish permitted levels of RF energy for the general population. The guidelines were developed by independent scientific organisations through periodic and thorough evaluation of scientific studies. The limits include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health.

The exposure standard for mobile phones employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit stated in the International guidelines or recommended by the Council of the European Union is 2 W/kg (3). Tests for SAR are

- (1) ICNIRP guidelines are applicable in the following areas: Central America (except Mexico), South & North Africa, Asia Pacific (except Taiwan, Korea, and Australia).
- (2) European recommendation (1999/519/EC) is applicable in the following areas: Europe, Eastern Europe, Israel.
- (3) The SAR limit for mobile phones used by the public is 2 Watts/kilogram (W/kg) averaged over ten grams of body tissue. The international guidelines or European limit incorporate a substantial margin of safety to give additional protection for the public and to account for any variations in measurements.

conducted using standard operating positions with the phone transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the phone while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the phone is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a base station antenna, the lower the power output of the phone.

The highest tested SAR value for this mobile phone for use at the ear and compliance against the standard is 0.31 W/kg. While there may be differences between the SAR levels on various phones and at various positions, they all meet the relevant International guidelines and EU requirements for RF exposure.

Your telephone is equipped with a built-in antenna. For optimal operation, you should avoid touching it or degrading it.

- Or press the key from the MENU (see page 26) then select "Directory".

To search for the name you are looking for

Two directories are available, the SIM directory and the product directory (Mobile) .

For easy consultation, all your contacts are stored in a joint list.

The icon displayed in front of a name indicates whether the name belongs to the SIM directory or to the Mobile's:

- SIM directory
- Product directory (Mobile).

Searching for a name by its first letter

You can also search for the name of the person you wish to contact by pressing the key associated with the first letter of his/her name.

Example: Press the 2 key twice to find the first name beginning with "B", then scroll the list to the name you are looking for using the OK key. In some languages, depending on the input mode, this search is performed using the "Search name" option. (See page 35)

Calling from the directory

You can assign 3 different numbers to the same name: home, mobile, office (see page 34). If you want to call a party who has several numbers, first you must choose the number you wish in the list.

Displaying a phone number

7.2 Creating a directory file

If your directories are empty, the "Directory empty! Create a file?" message will be displayed.

From the list of names in your directories, press the OK key to create a file.

Each name in a directory can have up to 3 numbers: Home, Mobile, Office.

Files created in the SIM directory can be consulted from a different mobile.

! If you use your telephone abroad, you should store the numbers in the directory in the international format with the "+" prefix. (See page 17)

Switch from one to another by pressing on the key or key.

! You don't have to fill in all the information, but at least one number must be entered for each name.
Up to 250 phone numbers can be stored in the product directory. The SIM directory's capacity depends on the operator.

7.3 Classifying a file in a family

To differentiate your files, you can classify them in groups called "families": Private , Profession. , Other , or None. A different ring tone can be assigned to each family. This classification will allow you to easily distinguish a professional call from a private call (1). It is possible to screen incoming calls by family. (See page 76)

The files you create may be organised in alphabetical order, by family (Private , Profession. , Other , or None) or by directory (SIM then Mobile). (See page 33)

! (1) If the caller's number is displayed.

7.4 Available options

From the list of names in your directory, you can access the following options by pressing the key:

Using the voice recognition command

From the main screen

Long keypress

7.6 Assigning a ring tone to a family

You can assign a ring tone to a family, so when you receive a call from a contact classified in a particular family, the ring tone for the incoming call will be the one assigned to that family. An icon is also assigned to each of the family, allowing you to easily recognise your caller's family. (See page 34)

7.7 Temporary SIM card

When you create a file, you can include 3 different numbers (Home, Mobile, Office).

If you change your SIM card, an information message will be displayed when the telephone is switched on. You must then decide if this card will become your main SIM card or if it is being inserted temporarily:

- Keypress on : the SIM you just inserted becomes your main SIM card. You can modify the files as you wish. If you reinsert your old SIM card, you will no longer find the three numbers that were formerly associated with the same name.
- Keypress on : the SIM you just inserted is considered as "Temporary", which does not allow you to create a file with three different numbers (Home, Mobile, Office). You can still create or modify files with one number. If you then reinsert the first card (your main card), you will find the three number association it originally contained.

8 VIBRATOR

You can enable the vibrator in public places (such as restaurants, museums, etc.) allowing you to keep your telephone switched on while remaining as discreet as possible. When you receive a call, your telephone will vibrate instead of ringing or beeping.

8.1 Activating / deactivating the vibrator

- By pressing (long keypress) the  key from the main screen.

9.2 Reading your messages

The messages are stored in your SIM card and classified in two groups: unread messages and read messages.

"Unread" messages

When a new message is received, a screen message "Do you want to read your new messages?" and the  icon are displayed and an audible signal (1) is emitted.

The  icon disappears when all new events (messages, calls, ...) have been consulted.

If you want to read immediately the messages, press the  key.

- ! (1) To deactivate the audible signal (see page 54).
